

Diabetes Update for Clinicians

Brief course overview

This one day diabetic update workshop aims to bring primary care clinicians up to date with the latest developments in diabetes care. Sessions will be delivered by specialists in the field. Teaching formats will include seminars, practical sessions, case studies and group discussion.

Topics

Topics covered are likely to include:

- NHS Long Term Plan, diabetes & prevention
- Advances in insulin therapies in type 1 & type 2 diabetes
- The changing paradigm of the treatment of type 2 diabetes
- Unusual types of diabetes – MODY
- Diabetes in the elderly
- Diabetes Care for You
- Hypoglycaemia
- Diabetic Foot Project – pathways, updates and future plans

Who should attend?

Clinical staff working in primary care

Certification

A certificate of attendance will be provided to attendees

Who will teach it?

This course will be led by Drs Chris Sargeant and David Lipscomb and taught by clinical specialists and university lecturers from relevant disciplines.

Where and when will it run?

9.30am- 4.30pm
Thursday 14th November 2019
Falmer Campus, University of Brighton

How much will it cost?

£150
Includes lunch, refreshments & on-site parking (subject to limited availability)

Where to register?

bit.ly/BSMS_DiabetesNov2019

Contact

cpd@bsms.ac.uk