

Important Notice for Patients

Undergraduate Medical School Students

This practice works in partnership with Brighton and Sussex Medical School to support the training of future doctors.

As part of their clinical education, medical students may attend some clinical appointments to gain practical experience in the treatment and care of patients.

If you would prefer not to have medical students present during your consultation or to speak with you during your visit, please let a member of staff know.

Your decision will be respected, and your care will not be affected in any way.

Applicable from September 2026 to June 2027
